

Everyone always has fids of wishes – eat delicious food, dress nicely, have a good rest. There are much fewer people who would take a risk. "Travelling" on a couch by the television or at a cinema, a person empathises with the events occurring. But not everyone would like to be a true participant...

From my childhood movies, I have memories of Indians hunting for scalps, treasures in caves, hard conquests of the Andes, raging rivers, and poisonous snakes.

But my wish will not come true just because I want it. The Divine Ones have their own view on that. Contact sacred parts of the world, fill up the energy, receive information from the thin world are the tasks They set for me. And one of the major objectives during my trips is to discover clean souls in people.

August 5, 2008. Lima, the national capital of Peru. A great and very clean city, founded in 1535. The city is located on the Pacific shore. The history of Peru is excellently described in history books. I would like to tell about my unusual meetings only.

Frankly, I did not read anything about the history of Peru. But I had very knowledgeable guides, and their information about the country's history was comprehensive.

Day One – meeting the city. The government building is surrounded with military vehicles on the alert. Little time had passed after riots in the country – military coups, robbery and murder.

The government building. I was there just in time to see the changing of the guard.

Santo Domingo, an ancient Roman Catholic church which decorates the central square with its unique architecture.

I liked Lima by night much better. It looked mysterious. There were the "other" in the room, they were kind and gave me the energy of love.

Wata tried to be a black and white dog, but she's a "black and white" dog. She has a white face and white markings on her legs, but she's a black dog like

When you're in Peru, you're in a world of ceramics. The ceramics are made from the same materials as the ones you see in the museum. The ceramics are made from the same materials as the ones you see in the museum.

Wata tried to be a black and white dog, but she's a "black and white" dog. She has a white face and white markings on her legs, but she's a black dog like

In the Temple of the Dragon, the Divine Ones told information absolutely opposite to what people had th

I may be confused with the names of the temples as they are too numerous. But I assure you, being in a

My only hope is that I can find a guide to help me navigate the many temples and ruins. The guide should be able to provide me with the names of the temples and the history of the site. I am sure that a good guide will be able to help me understand the significance of the ruins and the culture of the people who built them.

A terrific Inca temple. It's a city that has been built into a catholic temple. It is now like two cultures in one place.

The Indians are tall, and due to that feature can be differentiated by tribes: Tall and short Incas. The shorter ones are the Inca nobles.

The Incas and Mayans are known to be well-versed in astronomy. This knowledge could have been given to them by the gods.

The cathedral

Cuzco

As we were touring the city, the guide took me to a shaman who treated people, performed rites and g

I would have told that the walls in Catholic cathedrals feature great pieces of art. You can go to cathed

My guide. A true historian with extensive knowledge and a wonderful storyteller.

I was about to go up many pyramids

Those were thick and built with steps and still intact. Sacsayhuamán was often

The stones were made of a soft stone that was easy to work with. They are still in a good state of preservation, and the

They are still in a good state of preservation, and the August 11, 2008 - We visited the Pisac Valley. On the way there, the Inca women were selling

We then headed for the llama farm. A llama came up to me putting its head on my shoulder and trying to

We stopped for lunch, and the Incas were playing wonderful ethnic music.

My friend and I were going down the pyramid, and the Incas were playing wonderful ethnic music. The pyramid was going to be a father

When I was going down the pyramid, the Other were accompanying me.

The houses are inhabited by some black bugs. The bugs are picked up, crushed, and their red juice is

I stopped for the night in this picturesque hotel before going on the next tour.

August 13, 2008 We took a train to the sacred mountain of Machu Picchu.

As soon as we got to the top we went to the top of the mountain – the other one, not Machu Picchu.

On the way, the Divine Ones were talking with my guide. The way up was not difficult but influenced by t

We went up and into the temple for meditation.

The view from the top is just excellent!

They said that the flowers were the same as the ones that the Incas used to grow in their gardens. They said that the flowers were the same as the ones that the Incas used to grow in their gardens.

They said that the tree was the same as the one that the Incas used to plant in their gardens. They said that the tree was the same as the one that the Incas used to plant in their gardens.

When the guide and I were having a walk in the ancient town, something told me I should go up Machu

The trek is not too hard, but you should be in good shape. The views are fantastic.

The vista on top is majestic. The Incas used to grow food on those cascades.

While walking in Cuzco by night I took a photo of a being, up in the left.

On our way, we went to a Catholic cathedral with pictures of the holy family.

We guide you to the most beautiful views of the victor.

The temple of the sun.

In the morning my guide picked me up to get to Lake Titicaca.

A wonderful lake!

People live on floating islands. They tie them up to huge boulders – very romantic, and no

August 14, 2006. Way to the Uros islands.

The Incas were buried in such tombs business and going back to the future. My research, the idea is to see the industry's future, the complete